DEVILS?

VIOLENT CRIME is making life in our cities a nightmare for millions. People can see that the police and courts have lost the battle against the muggers, rapists and mindless hooligans.

So they are desperate for someone to do something.

This is the reason for the massive public interest in the visit to London by members of the New York anti-crime vigilantes the "Guardian Angels".

This group has had limited but welcome success in reducing crime on the New York underground system. Dressed in a distinctive "uniform" of T-Shirts and berets, the "Guardian Angels" travel on trains keeping an eye open for trouble and hope to reassure passengers. As they are known to be trained in unarmed martial arts, their presence does undoubtedly deter many criminals.

Unfortunately, their attempt to stem rising crime in the American underground systems has led to no lasting success partly because it is such a massive problem which such a small group cannot hope to even dent.

But this isn't to deny that they have stopped a number of crimes being committed, and the targetted victims are naturally very thankful to them.

HOSTILE REACTION

The extraordinarily hostile initial reaction of the Metropolitan Police to the "Angels" visit and trial operation on London's Underground was most revealing. It showed very clearly how, when it comes down to it, the top priority for the police is to maintain their authority and status as the only organized group on the streets, rather than to prevent crime.

second line of defence, saying that "Angel" volunteers could play a useful role, but only by becoming Special Constables.

This is a classic example of how, if the State fails to destroy a group of opponents, it then tries to assimilate them.

Public fear of crime is so strong that despite police criticisms, the "Guardian Angels" idea proved remarkably popular all over the country. The Liverpool Echo for example, carried out a poll to see if locals would favour the "Angels" operating in the city. A staggering 10 to 1 were in favour of the idea.

FAILINGS

While it is pleasing to see ordinary people recognizing some of the many failings of the over-paid police force, the "Guardian Angels" can not receive the unqualified support of nationalists in Britain.

There is a very real danger that such an organization could become yet another self- imposed clique lording it over the rest of us. And we do not see how such a relatively small group of people can do anything to stop crime in general. They are far more likely to cause it to move elsewhere where it will become no less of a problem.

But worst of all is the fact that the existance of another tier of "experts" whose job it is to curb street crime would make it even less likely that people will do something for themselves to prevent crime. Quite simply, the only effective policing,

An investigation by the Royal College of Physicians conducted over the last two years has revealed that many of the 3,500 babies who die in England and Wales each year are "potentially treatable".

They have also revealed that new born babies are being put on "silent waiting lists" so that worried parents do not find out that there is a delay in finding available intensive care cots.

SHORTAGES

The report goes on to state that "There is a shortfall of at least 500 intensive care cots, as well as a shortage of doctors and nurses and other specialist staff. Without these necessary resources many babies who could have been rescued will die and a high proportion of the survivors will have serious handicaps".

The report also slams the way in which newborn babies are sometimes effectively put on silent waiting lists as doctors desperately ring round hospital after hospital searching for a spare place in an intensive care unit.

Consultant paediatrician, Dr. Malcom Chiswick, a member of the College report team says "The most important part of intensive care is supporting a baby on a breathing machine. Commonsense tells anyone that if a baby needs a breathing machine and cannot get one, it will die".

THE NORTH-SOUTH DIVIDE

The North-South divide was never more evident than in the reports findings.

Over half of all the sick and premature newly born babes in the North West of England, who need immediate intensive care treatment, have to receive it outside the region because of the serious deficiencies in local facilities.

As long as ordinary people look to the police as the only legitimate source of power and authority on the street, their domination is unchallengeable. Violent crime is only soaring because too many otherwise decent people would rather turn a blind eye to what is going on in the next carriage or down the alleyway. Let's be blunt about it. If you have ever turned away from such trouble, then you are partly to blame for violent crime.

NOT THE ANSWER

The answer to violent crime cannot be to call for more police or to sit back and hope that someone else will try and do something about it. The only effective solution to deal with violent crime is for each community to organize itself and for individuals to be prepared to act for the benefit of the community. This spirit, which is sadly lacking nowadays, must come from the family at base and reach out through the extended family and wider community.

Each community must organize its own watch patrols, escorts for women and the elderly and so on. If crime arises in the comunity, then they must be prepared to deal with it.

And if the official courts won't effectively deal with the offenders, then the community must do that too. Violent crime is a problem for the whole community, so the whole community must act to do something about it.

The report goes on to state that *"There is a shortfall of at least 500 intensive care cots, as well as a shortage of doctors and nurses and other specialist staff. In the North West hospital region there are only half as many intensive care cots at hospitals like St. Mary's in Manchester and Hope hospital in Salford as are needed.

The report from the College concludes with this chilling forcast:

"We are turning away at least 50% of sick babies who require intensive care because we cannot accomodate them, inevitably some of the babies will die".

'MY COUNTRY'

"THEY behave violently on the stations and trains, vomiting and urinating in public, causing fights and committing acts of criminal damage on the trains" said Chief Inspector David Furness. More football thugs on the rampage? No! Furness is talking about the well off pin stripe City workers who, according to him, are "mainly merchant bank workers and dealers from the floor of finance houses between the age of 24 and 35".

So far, the wealthy yobs have ripped up seats, then thrown them from moving trains and attacked passers by. So out of control has the problem become that at one station in London - Liverpool Street - the police have decided to draft in special squads as well as dog handlers.

All this is no surprise. All sections of today's sick society are under the jackboot of a parliamentary media dictatorship. 'Our' society is not organic. People quite rightly do not feel part of it. They all know that they are irrelevant and powerless. Why should the majority respect a system and its laws which are organized to give power and wealth to a tiny minority. Even the pin stripe yobs, who are earning vast amounts of money, realize that they could be propping up the dole queue by 3pm, so unstable are their jobs.

They can double or even treble police numbers; they can arm them to the teeth; but these things can only be minor cosmetic repairs to keep the people in line with their rules. Only when authority, based upon Natural Law, lies with the people will there be calm and Justice for all in the country. For a country that is run by the people, and for the people, will largely police itself.

After all, no-one is going to smash up their own possessions, or stand idly by while a madman does so. When the phrase 'my country' really means just that to ordinary people, such anti-social behaviour will disappear along with the alienation that causes it.

LIES, DAMN LIES

EACH year, on January 1st, secret cabinet records from 30 years ago are released for public scrutiny... but not all of them. Top civil servants are careful to censor any particularly damaging information, despite the fact that the meetings to which the records refer took place three decades ago! But considering the decisions made, it is not surprising that our masters choose to keep the effect of their policies out of the public domain for as long as possible.

For example, the latest document reveals that in 1958 the government routinely lied about the safety problems at Britain's nuclear power stations. These problems had led to widespread concern about the potential for radiation contamination, and so, with typical disdain for the truth, the Tory government sought to manipulate public opinion by covering up details of a turbine explosion at the Calder Hall plutonium manufacturing plant in Cumberland. The document also implicates the then Tory government in withholding the results documents show that cabinet members were well aware of the tensions building up in our cities as a result of their multi-racist policies. But, rather than face the race problem face-on, the government abrogated its responsibility by vainly hoping that the rulers of India, Pakistan and the West Indies would implement immigration restrictions at their end.

The folly of this attitude is present for all to see, as race relations in our inner cities continue to disintegrate, bringing closer the horrific possibility of a tragic race war.

BLUE VERSUS GREEN

NATIONALISTS have long been aware of the duplicity of modern parliamentary rule. The politicians promise us one thing and then practise another when they get into power, and at the same time they use their influence in the Capitalist media to change the record of what they are actually doing.

Yet another recent event is illustrative of this dishonesty.

Recent weeks have seen Tory hacks gloating over Thatcher's supposed conversion to the green cause. But actions speak louder than words, and the actions of one government minister, Nicholas Ridley, certainly speak volumes about the real Tory attitude to the preservation of our wildlife.

New rules imposed by the Nature Conservancy Council, which works closely with Ridley's Environment Department, make it harder than ever for concerned groups or individuals to buy land for wildlife sanctuaries. The NCC will refuse purchase grants to organisations planning to ban hunting in their area.

Ridley is a well known bloodsports supporter.

So whilst Ridley is happy to see the green belt around London destroyed for profit, he is not prepared to allow ordinary people the chance to take part in wildlife preservation voluntarily when it conflicts with one of his own sick pastimes.

The arrogance of such people can sometimes shock even the most hardened of political activists!

But behind the public image the government, within days, approved a further 1,400 acres of alien conifer planting in the ecologically sensitive flow country in North East Scotland. This area is known as "the last great wilderness in Europe" and is a refuge for many of our rare birds.

The scheme has been criticised by the RSPB and even the Nature Conservancy Council which isn't exactly noted for its environmental zeal.

But since the Tories put profit first, the welfare of people, land and wildlife must always be subordinate to their role in life - to make yet more profits idly by while a madman does so. This caused outrage last year when it first came to light under the 30 year rule.

1958 was also the year of the first Notting Hill race riot. And the documents show that cabinet members were well aware of the tensions building up in our cities as a result of their multi-racist policies. SELF-SELECTED ELITES

Parliamentary governments the world over have consistently acted against the best interests of their respective peoples.

No wonder few people take the electoral process seriously these days!

What must be taken seriously though, is our right and duty to rule our own affairs in our own country, without manipulation by self-selected elites. The establishment will never stop lying to us - their jobs depend on it!

Only when the British peoples implement a system of decentralised popular rule will we be able to tackle the many problems facing our society.

WAR CRIMES

THE ongoing row over whether a member of the royal family should attend the funeral of the Japenese war criminal Emperor Hirohito is a farce.

We have a lot of sympathy for war veterans who suffered in the Far East and their comrades who never returned, but when looked at objectively, the question of attending the funeral or not becomes pretty irrelevant.

The death of Hirohito should have been an occasion in which to look at the whole subject of war crimes and identify why they happen in the first place. Only in this way can we attempt to stop the conditions that lead to such things happening.

And what it basically comes down to is this. In a despiritualised world any war situation will bring out the worst in human behaviour. And the longer and more bitter the war, the more the atrocities grow.

There are still many people who will attempt to argue that whilst everone else in the world is capable of such atrocities, the British are whiter than white. So the first thing that we should recognize is the fact that the British have committed some of the worst atrocities that the world has ever seen.

For many people in Britain this may be hard to stomach. Truth is often hard to accept but it must be accepted if we are to build a better world, free from the mistakes, mentality and misconceptions of the past.

WHERE WE STAND

NATIONAL FREEDOM

Britain is a family of Nations - England, Wales, Scotland, Kernow, Mannin, Eire and Ulster - linked by blood and history. The peoples of all nations have an inalienable right to self - determination and to preserve their native cultures and traditions. We look forward to the day when Eire voluntarily rejoins the future federated British family of nations.

RACIAL SEPARATION

Race is the main determining factor in nationality. Racially mixed societies cannot form one nation and are therefore unstable. No one race is 'superior' to others, but they are all different. Racial integration threatens all races. Humane repatriation is better for us all than endless repression and racial violence.

SOCIAL JUSTICE

The nation is a great family. Every member of our national family has the absolute right to care at the nation's expense when young, sick or old. There must be equal opportunity for all, but unearned privilege for none.

WELL DISTRIBUTED PROPERTY

The realistic opportunity to own one's own home and place of work is the right of all our people. Direct ownership of the means of production and distribution is essential for individual freedom, for family stability and for the best use of our national resources.

SANITY IN FINANCE

The right to create the credit needed by the economy must belong to the people's government. The banks, which have usurped this right, must be stripped of their unjust gains and power. The National Debt is based on usury and must be repudiated.

RESPECT FOR NATURE

We hold the environment in trust for future generations. Pollution of the land, sea and air, and of the gene pool through radiation, is a betrayal of that trust.

POPULAR RULE

Parliamentary representation is a fraud. Party rule is a cloak for the dictatorship of vested interests and media bosses. Government must be in the hands of the people themselves, through new information technology, and the election of delegates to carry out their wishes. Power must be devolved to the lowest possible level.

THE ARMED PEOPLE

The freedoms given by these principles must be defended through armed neutrality, with well - equiped national defence forces involving the entire adult population. Power, wealth and arms in the hands of the people!

REVOLUTION NOT REFORM

These changes cannot be brought about by tinkering within the System, or by relying on the System's own institutions, such as parliament, schools or the courts. They can only spring from a National Revolution. This revolution must begin in the hearts of individuals, then spread by their example to involve whole communities in revolutionary structures such as alternative councils and schools, neighbourhood patrols and self - help groups. Once we cease to depend on the institutions of the old State, it will be swept aside.

THE THIRD WAY

The growth of these ideas in nation after nation shows that a new force is rising in the world for the 21st century. Leaving behind the sterile hatreds of Capitalism and Communism, this Third Way offers a real future for all our peoples. We urge all those who agree with these principles to join with us in the struggle to build the National Front - the Movement of the Future.

The Defendant

With the death last September of Dorothy Collins, secretary and later literary executor of G.K. Chesterton, GKC's house - Top Meadow - is to be sold as it is not suitable for the needs of the present owners, the C.A.S.

The Chesterton Society have launched an appeal to purchase Top Meadow and establish there a centre for the active study and propagation of GKC's work and thought. The success of this scheme is of immense importance to our Movement as GKC is one of our principal mentors and forebears of the Movement.

The Top Meadow Trust has been established to raise the necessary funds, but it is of all the more importance that the finance is raised quickly, as the C.A.S., although they would like the Chesterton Society to obtain the property, need to sell soon and will have to put it on the open market if necessary.

NF News is therefore appealing to our readers to help in whatever way that they can, as this is of great importance. The fund is worldwide and it is entirely possible that Top Meadow can be saved for furthering G.K.C.'s work, providing that all Chestertonians do make a great effort on behalf of the Trust.

WAR GAMES

Last year, three tanks competed against each other in war games in occupied Germany.

The Arambas for the U.S., the Leopard II for Germany and our own Challenger.

In the resulting trials, it could be said that the English football team have had more success in qualifying for the World Cup in the last decade, than the Challenger's 'challenge'.

Not surprisingly, the British Generals decided that they needed a new tank, quickly, and announced that they liked what they saw in the Arambas.

But there are several solid reasons for rejecting this foreign tank, not least that the principle of self-determination and independence covers many spheres, including armed

So all in all, it can be seen yet again that our self-imposed leaders, whether in the government or their army, have brought us to the situation where we are faced with the very real possibility of settling for a multi-million pound white elephant.

Children leaving the Overthorpe junior school in Dewsbury. Separate schooling can be won.

THE SOLICITOR who advised White parents involved in the long-running Dewsbury schools boycott has been asked to start fresh legal proceedings against Kirklees council, this time on behalf of Muslims in Batley.

The Muslims are angry because the council has refused to ask for state-funding for the 127 pupil Zakaria girls' school. The Asian parents have already shown they mean business by holding a one-day protest when they kept 1,000 children away from four primary schools.

The solicitor, Mr Reach, says that there are striking similarities between the Dewsbury case, which the White families won, and the Batley Asians' campaign.

"The issue turns on the same principle in that both sets of parents want to be brought up in schools where their own religious convictions are taught".

The Muslims agree. As their spokesman, Mr. Mustaquim Bleher puts it:

"We, like the parents in Dewsbury, say that this is not a matter of race and ethnic background but a matter of culture and religion.

"They have a different religion to ours and, like them, we prefer our own religion to a multi-cultural mishmash".

Whether you call it multi-cultural or multi-racist, the indoctrination machine of forced integration is collapsing.

THE Socialist Workers Party have launched an international defence campaign for Mark Curtis, one of the leaders of their American section. Curtis was jailed last November for 25 years. The SWP are claiming that he is the victim of State oppression and have raked in thousands of pounds for his Defence Fund, some of which has been spent on campaign leaflets highlighting this 'oppression'.

The trouble is that the SWP have forgotten to tell people exactly why Curtis has a new home for the next few years.

This defender of the proletariat brutally raped a 15 year old schoolgirl. And if that's not bad enough his SWP comrades have concentrated their Defence Fund leafleting campaign on the rape victim's high school.

CLIFF SLAUGHTER is a name that will ring a bell with many of our readers. Slaughter is one of the top knobs in the Workers Revolutionary Party.

It seems that he has been keeping rather a low profile recently. It turns out that Slaughter's son, Patrick, was one of the racist football thugs from Leeds who were sent down for organizing and taking part in a campaign of mindless violence which included vicious race attacks.

MARGARET THATCHER was interviewed by the editor of a well known woman's magazine recently. She was asked whether she would be converting her car to take lead-free petrol. Thatcher replied that she wouldn't be converting her fleet (fleet no less!) because it would cost too much.

Well, we contacted the Campaign for Lead Free Petrol and Greenwave, two groups who know about such things. It turns out that the conversion is a simple job and only costs between £5 to £15 and many garages do it for free when servicing the car.

We've had over a decade to Leopard II for Germany and our own Challenger.

In the resulting trials, it could be said that the English football team have had more success in qualifying for the World Cup in the last decade, than the Challenger's 'challenge'.

Not surprisingly, the British Generals decided that they needed a new tank, quickly, and announced that they liked what they saw in the Arambas.

But there are several solid reasons for rejecting this foreign tank, not least that the principle of self-determination and independence covers many spheres, including armed neutrality and our ability to defend ourselves against any aggressor - particularly the U.S. establishment who are extremely good at being aggressive!

SITTING DUCK

But there are also many technical faults with the Generals' choice, leaving them open to the charge that they are prepared to settle for the best of a bad job. Rubbish still remains rubbish, even if it is better than its competitors.

Track throwing is one such serious problem which leaves the Arambas a multi-million pound sitting duck. It also suffers from chronic engine problems with transmission and turbine blade failures. To be fair, its main armament

BABY MASSACRE

IN the moral stagnation of Thatcher's Britain more and more young teenage girls are treating induced abortion as an easy form of contraception.

One in three teenage conceptions in 1985 ended in wilful abortion compared with one in ten twenty years ago.

In these dark days of complete disregard for the life of the unborn child, young girls who find themselves pregnant see the systematic destruction of the baby in exactly the same light as the pill or the sheath - in other words to stop a child being born. This type of attitude fits in very nicely with Thatcher's vision of the future. A Britain where the 'enterprise' of the private abortion clinics in meeting the demand is seen as part of the economic boom.

Recently released statistics issued for the North West revealed that almost one in three babies born in the area during 1987 were illegitimate. Population trends also revealed that the illegitimacy rate in the area has almost tripled in the last ten years.

So there we have it. In Thatcher's divided and morally depressed Britain children are an integral part of the real losers of society. Many face either annihilation in the womb or a childhood devoid of any real family experience.

In modern society, abortion as contraception and the 'one parent family' are "ideals" that are actually promoted as fashionable, rather than wrongs to be avoided at all costs.

LOAN SHARKS

The Thatcher regime has made much play over their concern for consumer rights and the end of last October saw the publishing of a Green Paper designed to target loan-sharks whose initial capital base is raised from crime. The proposed legislation though, ignores the fundamentally corrupt nature of usury - the lending of money as an interest-bearing debt.

Independent consumer groups are expected to critisise the document as it suggests that credit brokers - the shadowy financial middle-men - should be less restricted than at present, the exact opposite of what is being asked for. The end result of the Green Paper proposals would be to further legitimize the loan-sharks, who, though acting legally, aim only to make a fast profit out of the financial misery of thousands of our people.

We've had over a decade to notice that Thatcher's pretty tight when it comes to spending a few bob on things that matter, but this is ridiculous. Or maybe the answer lies in that she's got a bigger fleet than the Armarda. We bet she didn't think twice about spending a small fortune of taxpayers hard earned cash so that she could swan about in a fleet of flashy cars though!

WORLD AFFAIRS, ANALYSIS & COMMENT

JUST WAITING TO BE CAUGHT OUT

NEW DEPTHS of media distortion were plumbed when it was revealed that the bomb that destroyed the PAN AM plane in the Lockerbie disaster was carried in the luggage of a CIA agent returning from an aborted mission.

This, we were solemnly asured, was further evidence that the attack was carried out by Palestinians with close links to Libya.

The Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, led by Ahmed Jibril, a group that recognize that many of the the PLO leadership are Zionist stooges, were put in the frame by so-called terrorism experts in Britain. Naturally enough, there was no evidence at all to support this wild claim by people, who after the truth comes to light always seem to be proved wrong!

CIA OBJECTIVE

And strangely enough, no one saw fit to suggest that the CIA man might have been carrying a CIA bomb, or explosives, which went off, perhaps by accident. Or perhaps the unfortunate man was deemed to be expendable and used to serve some CIA objective - such as to "justify" yet another murderous terror bomb attack on the Libyan people.

The other strange thing about the Lockerbie bomb is that no one in the Arab world would possibly have anything to gain from such an atrocity. No one that is except Israel, which has benefitted substantially from the way in whichworld media attention has switched away from its brutal repression of the Palestinians and back towards alleged Palestinian terrorism.

The Israeli secret service,

Hindawi attempt to plant a bomb on a plane at Heathrow was very nearly successful. Hundreds of people were nearly blown to pieces. Yet Mossad knew about the plot from the very beginning, but took no action to prevent what would have been a tragedy condemned throughout the world.

Why? Because it would have been a public relations disaster for the Palestinians. Besides, the fact is that Mossad probably instigated the plot in the first place by the use of agent provocateurs.

And now, when Israel - an illegal State that was built on terrorism and the blood of Palestinian and British victims - needs just such a disaster, it happens right on cue. Very strange! Yet no one in the media has seen fit to mention this possibility, and point the finger at Israel, a prime suspect in the atrocity.

CUI BONO?

IF you want to know why something happens in world affairs it's best to think of the way in which the Romans analysed puzzling events, with the two words "Cui Bono?" In other words, "Who stands to benefit?".

The founder of the Rockefeller empire, which determines much of America's political and economic life, John D. Rockefeller Sr, once said that "Competition is a sin".

Now, although the Rockefellers are well known for their interest and control in the oil business, what is less well known is that their most profitable line is in the pharmaceutical and drugs manufacturing trade. They have interests in over 200 drugs firms.

MONOPOLY

In many areas of the world the Rockefellers have a monopoly in this industry. Their clear attempt to create a world-wide cartel shows that the Rockefellers, like all Capitalists big or small, still think that "Competition is a sin".

So powerful sections of the US establishment would have every reason to push the administration into bombing the pharmaceutical plant in Libya. What better way to destroy an economic competitor than to have his factory blown up?

For as the Romans used to say: "Cui Bono?" Who stands to benefit?

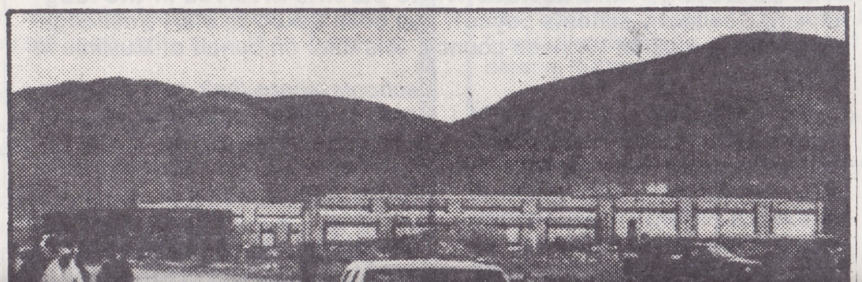
From a possible yankee raid on Libya, none other than the Rockefeller empire itself. Wars are usually fought for economic spheres of interest and there is no reason to suppose that the rationale behind the hypocritical anti-Libya hype is any different.



In 1986, Leon Dobbs was deported from the State of Israel where he lived as part of the Black Hebrew Nation. Later, when he tried to return as a journalist in order to evaluate the status of the community, he was refused entry. Eventually, he managed to enter occupied Palestine in May 1988 and travelled extensively through the country, meeting Palestinians and many dissident Jews living under the Zionist State.

MOVING THE GOALPOSTS

IT is usually claimed by establishment spokesmen that sharing a common passport constitutes common nationality, and that a bit of paper is more important than race, culture and way of life.

Everyone has heard this common minority sentiment regularly expressed; expressed by members of that minority - the politicians!

But multi-racist bureaucrats around the world have decided to move their own goalposts in an attempt to ensure the enforcement of their race destroying tyranny.

The Queen Charlotte islands off the Canadian coast boast some very rare wildlife, including the world's largest black bears; sea lions and various rare seals; sea birds, rare plants and giant trees. They are also home to over 2,000 Indians who have had enough of the Capitalistic West and are fed up with being told what to do and think by the government of British Columbia.

They are also appalled by the logging and destruction of their lush forests of giant spruce and cedar trees, which the Haida Indians regard

They are also appalled by the logging and destruction of their lush forests of giant spruce and cedar trees, which the Haida Indians regard as sacred.

INDEPENDENCE

So the Haida have declared Independence for the 140 islands that make up a chain stretching 180 miles. They have even started issuing their own passports.

But this has upset the British Columbian government and backing them, a United Nations spokesman in New York stated that "issuing passports does not necessarily mean you are a country."

In this topsy turvy world without values, it does not shock us to hear a UN official say that an Indian nation is not an Indian nation.

But whatever the bureaucrats say and attempt to enforce, the Haida are more of a nation than giant artificial States like the USA, USSR and the UK - despite the fact that passports are issued to the contrary.

A FAR WORSE PLACE

"There may be a lot of violence but we are not frightened of dying, and whilst we are alive we are not going to let the White man take our land."

So said Chief Pedro Inacio Pinheiro of Brazil's 27,000 strong Ticuna tribe. The Ticuna have voted to reject the law imposed upon them by the Brazilian government and army if they are not given land rights.

NFN* prizes the strong instinct for survival held by the Indians who, unlike our own people, are prepared to fight to the death if necessary for their identity and land. We look to them as being a source of inspiration in a world of increasing blanket uniformity.

Their is not a lot we can do for them at the moment, except give them our moral support and the recognition that when we fight for our own peoples' rights, we fight for the rights of every people.

The world would become a far worse place should they disappear from the face of the earth because of the greed of the banks and High Finance.

JAPAN is often described as the mosty progressive country in the modern world because of its industrial output, and to give it deserved credit, they way in which it has recovered from the horrific nuclear attacks perpetrated by the USA.

Doctors and surgeons throughout Japan testify that the real number of induced abortions carried out every year are somewhere in the region of three times as many. That is one and a half million!

Seibo No Mikuni, the main organized force combatting this plague in Japan, have set out to bring this slaughter of innocents to the world's attention. They have called for the 5th of every month to be designated anti-abortion day throughout the world and and the week following 5th May to be anti-abortion week. Seibo No Mikuni are appealing for world action during this week to bring home the full fact of abortion to populations who would rather not have such a thing on their consciences. As the saying goes, "out of sight, out of mind".

We must ensure that during the week of 5th May, this genocide does not remain far from people's minds. As Seibo No Mikuni say: "The unborn child is crying - 'Papa, I, too, am one man, Mamma, don't kill me'!"

THE Pan-African International Movement, and its leader, Chief Elder Osiris Akkebala, was the organization which provided the ground-breaking interview for the NF in 1987 - see Nationalism Today no. 43 - which opened up the way for regular communications between Black nationalists and the National Front.

In a recent talk with the head of the Pan-African group, based in Orlando, Florida, American Friends of the Movement representatives learned of PAIN's latest activities.

Like the National Front, PAIN has engaged in efforts to support the Palestinian Intifada. Osiris Akkebala formed a "Pan-African Palestinian Coalition" with Palestinian representatives in the U.S. Mr. Akkebala emphasized the similarity between the Palestinian and Black American cause. The Coalition, he said, was "about Africans in America joining with Palestinians to fight oppression... to fight for a national homeland."

Mr. Akkebala's group acts as a support group for Black Americans who wish to be repatriated to Africa.

Meanwhile, his popular radio show, "Straight Talk", continues to get the message of Black nationalism out to thousands of listeners. PAIN currently has units throughout the United States including Washington, DC; Sacramento, California; and Atlanta, Georgia. The organization is setting up a new unit in Palm Beach, Florida, where it will offer a course on African history and theology.

PAIN also has a base in Ghana and it is in the process of carrying out negotiations with the peoples' government there to arrange for future repatriation.

PAIN already owns a plot of farmland in Ghana for growing pineapples. This is the first stage in the creation of a self-sufficient community for Black Americans who are setting up their new home in Africa.

THE AFRICAN AMERICAN HEBREW MOVEMENT

THE POLITICS OF REPATRIATION

A SHORT HISTORY

THE history of the African American Hebrew community is one of great suffering but also success. They have faced oppression from the authorities in the USA and Israel where they have established a thriving community consisting of three settlements in the south of the Negev Desert.

THE African American Hebrew movement is a separatist organization based in North America that has featured in our pages before. Leon Dobbs, a leading member of the community, and a freelance journalist, played a major part in the ground-breaking "Living Alternatives" conference last year - see NFN 104. The conference brought together various Black and White separatist organizations from the States, and the NF was represented by comrades from the American section of the Movement. This led to regular contact and co-operation between the serious groups attending, who are pledged to work for the benefit of mankind.

In 1967, 350 Black pioneers from Chicago travelled to Liberia, west Africa, on route to the Holy Land. They reasoned that after being born and raised in a cosmopolitan hell-hole like Chicago, they would need to learn to adapt to a more natural lifestyle and live a process of preparation and purification in the wilderness of inner Liberia.

Naturally, the rigours of such a harsh life could not be endured by some, who returned to the US, but by 1969 the vast majority undertook the final stage of their journey and entered the State of Israel.

USED FOR PROPAGANDA

As is usually the case in such matters - the Ethiopian Falashas for instance - they were at first welcomed by the Zionist authorities who used the occassion as a propaganda exercise.

Then began a process of severe persecution that has not relented in 20 years. In April 1984, Don Shilansky, a deputy in former premier Shimon Peres's government, declared to the press that the Black Hebrews were "worse than the PLO" and would be Numerous historians have documented works tracing the Hebraic origins of many African tribes. For example, Joseph J. Williams, in "Hebrewisms of West Africa" from which the accompanying map was taken. This does not reflect the Oriental or European diaspora of the ancient Israelites, just that to Africa.

African Hebrews arrived in the Americas in the 16th century as captives in the slave trade. Today, there are dozens of African Hebrew communities across the African continent that are not associated with the community led by Ben Ammi. They can be found in Zimbabwe, South Africa, Ethiopia and Ghana among other nations.

Furthermore, there are thousands of Black Hebrew communities and congregations throughout the USA who have opted to remain in North America.

Ben Ammi, who led the Black Hebrews to Palestine, is pictured on the right.

It is a close-knit community, made even closer as all adults are regarded and respected as responsible guardians for all the children, and the children respect all of the adults as they do their own parents.

No one in the community smokes, drinks alcohol or takes any form of drug, and they have developed a natural wholistic approach to health; prevention rather than cure.

NF REPRESENTATIVES ATTEND SEPARATIST CONFERENCE

THE AMERICAN FRIENDS OF THE MOVEMENT closed their 1988 activities by participating in an important meeting between Black and White activists, in November, in Baltimore, Maryland.

American representatives of the NF were invited by Robert Brock, head of the Self-Determination Committee, to speak at the conference. Readers of NFN may recall that Mr. Brock has played a vital role in initial meetings between nationalists of different racial communities over the pst year.

This meeting was the second annual Black Reparations conference to be organized by the Self-Determination Committee. Mr. Brock, a solicitor, used this occassion to present his draft for a Bill, which has been set before members of the U.S.

As is usually the case in such matters - the Ethiopian Falashas for instance - they were at first welcomed by the Zionist authorities who used the occassion as a propaganda exercise.

Then began a process of severe persecution that has not relented in 20 years. In April 1984, Don Shilansky, a deputy in former premier Shimon Peres's government, declared to the press that the Black Hebrews were "worse than the PLO" and would be removed from Israel "very soon". This statement served to usher in some of the worst of the hostility faced by the Black Hebrews.

Their numbers have now grown to over 3,000 despite the persecution. Threats of military intervention, deliberate attempts to starve them, political isolation and a process of random and mass arrests have not deterred them.

REPATRIATION

But it is not just the Israeli authorities and Zionist activists who have tried to destroy the vision and spirit of the African American Hebrew movement.

Prince Asiel Ben Israel is the international ambassador of the movement. It is said that he is personally responsible for the repatriation of over 5,000 African Americans to their Motherland - no mean achievement!

But like the Honourable Marcus Garvey, he has also found himself to be an obvious target for the U.S. State.

In 1986 he was framed, along with dozens of his comrades, on racketeering charges and found himself facing up to 300 years imprisonment!

But however hard they tried, the U.S. State and its agencies could not in the end make the outrageous charges stick. They were forced to free the Black Hebrews, and at the final appeal trial the judge even lauded Prince Asiel and comrades.

They had suffered 32 months of incarceration, at the end of which the State prosecutor, J. Michael Hannon, admitted that the community was free from crime!

NF REPRESENTATIVES ATTEND SEPARATIST CONFERENCE

THE AMERICAN FRIENDS OF THE MOVEMENT closed their 1988 activities by participating in an important meeting between Black and White activists, in November, in Baltimore, Maryland.

American representatives of the NF were invited by Robert Brock, head of the Self-Determination Committee, to speak at the conference. Readers of NFN may recall that Mr. Brock has played a vital role in initial meetings between nationalists of different racial communities over the pst year.

This meeting was the second annual Black Reparations conference to be organized by the Self-Determination Committee. Mr. Brock, a solicitor, used this occassion to present his draft for a Bill, which has been set before members of the U.S. Congress, to create a "Slave Descendants Reparations Research Act". This Bill comes on the heels of the recent reparations paid to Japanese-Americans who were interned for three years during the Second World War.

This event raised a hue and cry from the Black community whose case for reparations, after nearly four centuries of enslavement, has been neglected once again. The purpose of the Research Act is to look into the historical justifications for reparations and to establish a trust fund to be administered by the U.S. Treasury based on these findings.

WORLD-WIDE PERSPECTIVE

Following an introduction by Robert Brock, Matt Malone, co-ordinator of the American FOM section, gave a speech which examined nationalism from a world-wide perspective. He also outlined the National Front's efforts towards easing racial tensions through a nationalist solution based upon separation. Mr. Malone went on to cite the recent visit by three NF leaders to the Libyan Jamahiriya, and the NF's support for the ideas held within Muammer Qathafi's Green Book. In conclusion, he stated: "The importance of co-operation is to realize that we, whether Black or White, are not alone in our efforts."

Mr. Malone was followed by Robert Hoy, a journalist and professional photographer, who suggested a "Black-White Agenda" for nationalist co-operation. One proposal which drew widespread approval from the audience was that the millions of dollars now squandered on Israel and other foreign powers by the U.S. government should be channeled into the hands of Black Americans. This would provide the funds for reparations in a manner acceptable to all parties.

THE OLD LINE CIVIL RIGHTS MOVEMENT IS DEAD

However, the November conference went beyond the issue of reparations, looking at the Black American situation from a nationalist perspective. It was the general consensus of the participants that "the old line Civil Rights Movement is dead." A veteran of the original Marcus Garvey movement, Y.B. Sebechai, explained that the "dream" of men like Martin Luther King was "not a dream but a nightmare.... It may be a dream for Barry and Fauntroy [prominent Black politicians] with their suits, Porsches, and Grade 9 Federal jobs...." But the fact, he said, that only 30,000 people, of an expected 300,000 attended the anniversary of King's "March on Washington", displayed a "repudiation of the old leadership".

Some interesting insights were provided by Micki Lee, a child-care expert and Secretary of the SD Committee. She emphasized the need for traditional education for Black children. Following the meeting, in a discussion with the NF representatives, she expressed her wish to meet more White nationalist women. Mrs. Lee asked why it seemed that so many White women wasted their time in feminist groups or neglected family life for the sake of materialism and selfishness. She pointed to Nancy Reagan, with her obssession with expensive china ware and Paris fashions, as the wrong kind of role model for White mothers.

BLACK POWER AND ECONOMICS

Other speakers included Black Power veteran, Warren Nelson, and Economist, Dr. Cleveland Chandler. Mr. Nelson discussed the problem of police informants and agent provocateurs, an issue of concern to all genuine nationalist movements. He attacked the rampant drug use within the Black community, and the means by which the police use criminals as tools against people engaged in constructive political activities.

Dr. Chandler, a professor at the well-known Howard University, looked at the question of reparations stating that it is "not an individual issue but a community issue." He explained that part of the solution to the Black situation in America is economic. The answer is "a distribution of a portion of the wealth."

The Self-Determination Committee is a growing organization, and one of the most active and dedicated separatist groups in America. The NF would like to thank Mr. Brock and his people for their much valued co-operation, friendship and assistance over the past year. We would also like to thank Rev. T.R. Williams, a long time Black nationalist activist, who welcomed the NF delegation to his church where the conference was held.

For the Zionist regime it is simply a matter of policy for that racist and oppresive bandit State. And some of

STRUCTURE

For two decades this arrangement has been the foundation stone for the community's growth. Through it all they have been led by Ben Ammi, the groups spiritual leader, along with a council of 12 princes - members of the community honoured for their wisdom, committment, example, perseverance and understanding of what the community is trying to achieve.

They have also developed 12 "divine ministries" which co-ordinate the daily needs of each village. These offices include ministries of transportation, health and preventive medicine, sports and recreation, education and so on.

They also maintain a priesthood which is responsible for the spiritual guidance of community members.

EDUCATION

But it is perhaps the education system of which they can be most proud of. Coming from a System where children are condemned to be illiterate and "backward" it is not surprising that the African American Hebrew movement is feared by the exploiters of mankind.

The Kingdom School of Holiness consists of primary and middle-school levels, starting with children aged 3 who progress as rapidly as their abilities allow. Secondary schooling is undertaken in the Kingdom School of the Prophets.

Education and information are so important that there are as many adults who return for additional study as there are young people furthering their study from secondary school level.

Children are raised bilingually, speaking Hebrew and English. By the time they reach their teens most have also mastered Arabic or another language. The courses include history, maths, life sciences, languages, art and philosophy.

The sciences are termed "life

WORLD-WIDE PERSPECTIVE

Following an introduction by Robert Brock, Matt Malone, co-ordinator of the American FOM section, gave a speech which examined nationalism from a world-wide perspective. He also outlined the National Front's efforts towards easing racial tensions through a nationalist solution based upon separation. Mr. Malone went on to cite the recent visit by three NF leaders to the Libyan Jamahiriya, and the NF's support for the ideas held within Muammer Qathafi's Green Book. In conclusion, he stated: "The importance of co-operation is to realize that we, whether Black or White, are not alone in our efforts."

Mr. Malone was followed by Robert Hoy, a journalist and professional photographer, who suggested a "Black-White Agenda" for nationalist co-operation. One proposal which drew widespread approval from the audience was that the millions of dollars now squandered on Israel and other foreign powers by the U.S. government should be channeled into the hands of Black Americans. This would provide the funds for reparations in a manner acceptable to all parties.

THE OLD LINE CIVIL RIGHTS MOVEMENT IS DEAD

However, the November conference went beyond the issue of reparations, looking at the Black American situation from a nationalist perspective. It was the general consensus of the participants that "the old line Civil Rights Movement is dead." A veteran of the original Marcus Garvey movement, Y.B. Sebechai, explained that the "dream" of men like Martin Luther King was "not a dream but a nightmare.... It may be a dream for Barry and Fauntroy [prominent Black politicians] with their suits, Porsches, and Grade 9 Federal jobs...." But the fact, he said, that only 30,000 people, of an expected 300,000 attended the anniversary of King's "March on Washington", displayed a "repudiation of the old leadership".

Some interesting insights were provided by Micki Lee, a child-care expert and Secretary of the SD Committee. She emphasized the need for traditional education for Black children. Following the meeting, in a discussion with the NF representatives, she expressed her wish to meet more White nationalist women. Mrs. Lee asked why it seemed that so many White women wasted their time in feminist groups or neglected family life for the sake of materialism and selfishness. She pointed to Nancy Reagan, with her obssession with expensive china ware and Paris fashions, as the wrong kind of role model for White mothers.

BLACK POWER AND ECONOMICS

Other speakers included Black Power veteran, Warren Nelson, and Economist, Dr. Cleveland Chandler. Mr. Nelson discussed the problem of police informants and agent provocateurs, an issue of concern to all genuine nationalist movements. He attacked the rampant drug use within the Black community, and the means by which the police use criminals as tools against people engaged in constructive political activities.

Dr. Chandler, a professor at the well-known Howard University, looked at the question of reparations stating that it is "not an individual issue but a community issue." He explained that part of the solution to the Black situation in America is economic. The answer is "a distribution of a portion of the wealth."

The Self-Determination Committee is a growing organization, and one of the most active and dedicated separatist groups in America. The NF would like to thank Mr. Brock and his people for their much valued co-operation, friendship and assistance over the past year. We would also like to thank Rev. T.R. Williams, a long time Black nationalist activist, who welcomed the NF delegation to his church where the conference was held.

Threats of military intervention, deliberate attempts to starve them, political isolation and a process of random and mass arrests have not deterred them.

REPATRIATION

But it is not just the Israeli authorities and Zionist activists who have tried to destroy the vision and spirit of the African American Hebrew movement.

Prince Asiel Ben Israel is the international ambassador of the movement. It is said that he is personally responsible for the repatriation of over 5,000 African Americans to their Motherland - no mean achievement!

But like the Honourable Marcus Garvey, he has also found himself to be an obvious target for the U.S. State.

In 1986 he was framed, along with dozens of his comrades, on racketeering charges and found himself facing up to 300 years imprisonment!

But however hard they tried, the U.S. State and its agencies could not in the end make the outrageous charges stick. They were forced to free the Black Hebrews, and at the final appeal trial the judge even lauded Prince Asiel and comrades.

They had suffered 32 months of incarceration, at the end of which the State prosecutor, J. Michael Hannon, admitted that the community was free from crime!

BLACK HEBREW COMMUNITY

The persecution faced by the African American Hebrew Nation can be looked at from two interrelated angles.

LIBERIA
AFRICA

For the Zionist regime it is simply a matter of policy for that racist and oppresive bandit State. And some of the venom directed against the Black Hebrews from the U.S. establishment can probably be explained by the powerful influence that Zionism holds with America's self-imposed leaders.

But without doubt, the U.S. establishment has its own interest in suppressing the Black Hebrews. For they represent a huge success story and advert for the principle of separation and repatriation as a realistic solution to some of the many problems faced by the world.

The forces of oppression and exploitation simply have no veneer of moral legitimacy when compared to the real achievements of the Black Hebrews in their quest for separation and self-determination.

SELF-SUFFICIENCY

Despite being surrounded by 3,000 Zionist troops and border police, despite - because of a ban on members of the community working for Israeli employers - the mass arrest and threatened deportation of 46 of the community for working at a Citrus packaging plant in April 1986, despite a resulting period of starvation and malnutrition leading to a rash of miscarriages, and despite the disconnection of water services, they have managed to build a flourishing community.

Perhaps it is partly because of these things that they have achieved this so quickly. For instance the principle of self-sufficiency became, instead of something to be aimed at, literally a matter of life and death.

The Black Hebrew community grow and tend their own vegatable gardens - they eat no meat or animal by-products on principle, build their own homes and other necessary buildings and make their own clothes.

These things are necessary for survival, but they have developed their community life to a much greater degree, even under such harsh conditions.

CLOSE-KNIT COMMUNITY

The men are expected to provide for the family as well as being spiritual heads, guiding the household in a righteous manner.

The women attend to the most important job of raising and developing the family, organizing the home as well as taking key roles and positions within the wider community.

community honoured for their wisdom, committment, example, perseverance and understanding of what the community is trying to achieve.

They have also developed 12 "divine ministries" which co-ordinate the daily needs of each village. These offices include ministries of transportation, health and preventive medicine, sports and recreation, education and so on.

They also maintain a priesthood which is responsible for the spiritual guidance of community members.

EDUCATION

But it is perhaps the education system of which they can be most proud of. Coming from a System where children are condemned to be illiterate and "backward" it is not surprising that the African American Hebrew movement is feared by the exploiters of mankind.

The Kingdom School of Holiness consists of primary and middle-school levels, starting with children aged 3 who progress as rapidly as their abilities allow. Secondary schooling is undertaken in the Kingdom School of the Prophets.

Children are raised bilingually, speaking Hebrew and English. By the time they reach their teens most have also mastered Arabic or another language. The courses include history, maths, life sciences, languages, art and philosophy.

The sciences are termed "life sciences" because the Black Hebrews base them upon understanding and respecting life, rather than learning how to destroy it. "We do not study biology for example, by cutting up frogs and other animals" explains Shaiyirah Baht Israel, the minister of education. "Our study of life sciences involves the study of living things and their interactions with the rest of the environment. Not the taking of life."

But perhaps the last word should come from the minister of information, Eliezer Ben Yehuda. "We have people from all walks of life, from former jet engine mechanics to doctors and former street people who all had one thing in common - a sincere belief in God and a desire for a better life."

TOP MILITARY FIGURE CALLS FOR A CITIZENS' ARMY

A TOP West German Admiral has caused a sensation by calling for the removal of all American and other foreign forces from his country, and the establishment of a citizen's army. Admiral Elmar Schmahling is a former head of military intelligence and is now chief of one of the most important armed forces think-tanks - the Office for Studies and Exercises.

1989 is the 40th anniversary of the West German State and its themes within the country are widely recognized as being German sovereignty and self-consciousness. Admiral Schmahling is merely reflecting the view of millions of his countrymen and women when he argues that it is time for Germany to be viewed as something more than a potential battlefield for foreign powers.

The majority of Germans are now in favour of the withdrawal of all nuclear weapons from German soil, and resentment of the American presence in particular has grown following the air disasters at Ramstein and Remscheid.

Yet the admiral is not in favour of a return to the Prussian militarism that haunted Europe for generations. His basic belief is that European wars are not winnable. He believes that the professional army should be replaced with a civilian-based defence system.

"I don't want to talk about bunkers or Maginot lines, but software and adapting civilian infrastructures for defense - locating computer equipped command posts in underground car parks for instance."

Admiral Schmahling describes his ideal as a citizens army. Its members would be given leave from their civilian jobs for up to several years at a time to maintain a national defence capacity which, while useless for aggression, would make successful

DEAR EDITOR

ULSTER, PIRA AND AMERICA

Dear Sir,

I was amazed to read the letter from 'J.T.' of Washington DC, (NFN 113), and his claim that the National Front has "toned down" its criticism of the Irish Republican movement. I was especially disturbed at his approval of this alleged change of policy.

The facts are that the NF has not toned down its attitude to the Provo's. The difference is that we no longer waste our breath hurling mindless invective at them. We have analysed their claim to be a genuine nationalist movement. We have found that they are not! They are Marxist and imperialist. Their aim is to shove Ulster into an all-Ireland State by force of arms. They are the enemy of all the people of Ulster whatever their religious persuasion.

Although the Provo's are Marxist, they are still generally perceived as a sectarian organization. They are not too interested in the intricacies of Catholic theology or in any form of religion, but the vast majority of their members and supporters are drawn from the Catholic community. This is admitted in an article in issue 12 of the Sinn Fein magazine Iris, which states that thwe Republican movement "has concentrated on the needs of the Catholic community and ignored the needs of the Northern Protestants". It is hardly surprising that many Protestants get the strong impression that their kin are being murdered for sectarian reasons.

In turn, it is true that some loyalist paramilitary groups do carry out sectarian killings. However, the Provo's described the UFF wounding of Gerry Adams as 'sectarian' when it was quite obviously an attempted political assassination.

At election times, Sinn Fein and the SDLP candidates don't bother to 'waste' election communications on people living in mainly Protestant areas. In the same way, unionist candidates don't send their literature to mainly Catholic areas. Apart from the National Front, only the Stalinist, Workers Party, and the liberal, Alliance Party, bother to send election literature to all sections of the community. Stalinism and liberalism have nothing to offer the Ulster people. Only the NF offers our people a positive vision for the future - to all the people of our troubled land!

The Westminster Establishment and politically illiterate unionists regard IRA activists as common criminals. This is nonsense. Most of them are sincere in their beliefs and many, like Bobby Sands, have made great sacrifices for their cause. This does not in any way sanctify their perverse cause! Their imperialist war against the Ulster nation has cost the lives of numerous innocent people. This ought to disturbe 'J.T.' Some IRA military operations, like the 1987 Enniskillen bombing, were terrorist atrocities for which the perpetrators deserve to hang!

Yours for a free Ulster,
D.K., Co. Antrim.

POETS CORNER

Dear Comrades,

BETTER SOCIETY

Dear Sir,

I would like to take this opportunity to say how thrilled I am at the way the National Front has been transformed from a bigoted gang of reactionaries, into a well-organized hardcore of political militants.

This might seem like a small achievement to outside observers, as we have yet to gain the respect of the masses and reach our ultimate goal of national revolution. This may be true, but there is something happening now that many of us overlook - we may not have lead the people to power yet, but we are already creating a better society.

While the political parties set about 'reforming' the mess that they created our Movement is setting an example worthy of emulation. While both right and left-wing organizations preach multi-racism and racial hatred, we are encouraging unity in diversity. While our 'representatives' are destroying our nations through their personal and collective greed, corruption and selfishness, we are finding common ground with many different pressure groups in order to mould a society based upon love, freedom and justice.

It is the young men and women of the National Front who are beginning to do things for themselves, and instead of waiting for power to come to them, they are using their own initiatives and putting their ideas into practice now. It is ironic that in the past the National Front had thousands of members but no real political solutions. Today, we have begun to orchestrate a most noble set of ideals, and although we are presently numerically weaker, we possess many people in our ranks who themselves possess a special quality - that which illustrates the difference between a Movement of the Future, and the political sterility of the past.

I would just like to add that although we live in a filthy, decadant and totally sick society, I am glad to be alive today and be a part of something that is so honest and highly constructive, and that which will secure my children's future.

While others try to patch up their crumbling Systems, only the National Front offers a true alternative........
TOWARDS UTOPIA!

Admiral Schmahling describes his ideal as a citizens army. Its members would be given leave from their civilian jobs for up to several years at a time to maintain a national defence capacity which, while useless for aggression, would make successful invasion by a foreign power impossible.

This rise of peaceful yet forceful German national sentiment is of interest in several spheres. Most obviously, we are delighted to have a top military figure reaching similar conclusions on national defence in the next century as us. For if Germany can be defended by a citizens' army, the British Isles certainly can be as well.

And then there is the fact that the disastrous post-war division of Europe can only be ended when the present artificial division of Germany is ended. If Germany can combine economic strength - to which the Soviet Union needs access - with military neutrality and a clearly non-offensive military capacity - which the Soviets not surprisingly will always demand - the reunification question becomes a matter of "when" rather than "if".

This in turn would make the American occupation of the British Isles even more obviously unnecessary and oppressive. History shows that empires that start to shrink end up by collapsing totally. The Soviet empire has just retreated in abject defeat from Afghanistan. The Yanks have suffered similar humiliations from Vietnam to the Lebanon.

Both of these Empires of Death have begun to falter. As Europe stirs they will crumble to dust and will be replaced by free and independent nations united in their diversity and common humanity.

FOREIGN TROOP CUTS ROCK THE TORY BOAT

THE TORY press have once again been beating the drum over the vaguest hint that Britain mignt follow troop cuts in Gibralter with a move to hand the island back to Spain. To the imperialists, this is an outrageous threat, but to all people who sincerely hold national sentiments the idea must be welcomed.

Gibralter was taken from Spain by force in 1704. The "peace" treaty which handed the rock to Britain was signed at gunpoint. The strategic value of the island as the key to the Mediterranean Suez route to India has, fortunately, long gone.

'Prisoner of War'

Thrown in gaol by a corrupt State,
The prisoner shudders as he hears the gate,
As it crashes against the frame it's hanging from.
Bottom bunk in a tiny cell,
That food was bad, but this is hell,
Realisation hits him like a bomb.

Adhering to a certain Creed,
Marked him out as a dangerous breed,
Now his enemies have caged him like a rat.
He puts his worthiness under scrutiny,
Guilt - a result of inactivity,
Dreams and ambitions have been crushed flat.

Once a cog in a Movement for Freedom,
Liberating people from the evil that leads them,
Now a number, while a stranger holds the key,
The prisoner won't bow to State oppression,
Or let the effects of forced depression,
Weaken his Faith by one degree.

And when the months and days have gone,
He will be free to carry on,
The struggle for his nation so dear.
If you ever meet this individual,
Do not seek to divert his schedule,
For there is no rest while suffering is here.....

CLEANING UP THE SYSTEM

Dear NFN,

It seems to me that the major object of NFN has been to transform the National Front into a truly National Revolutionary movement in the mould of the 'Third Position'. So far it has been more than successful and will no doubt continue to be so.

However, I believe that now NFN's main objective should be to show this Capitalist system for the police state that it is. Many of my friends and comrades feel the same way as I do in that in at least 10-15 years time, the British nations will see repression never witnessed before. I would not be surprised if the state even went so far as to ban the NF (remember, recently on television, we were called terrorists!)

Unless we show the British peoples how corrupt this system is now, we will regret it in the future. It is for this reason I believe that the column 'Cleaning Up the System' (NFN 99) should be brought back as I feel it wasn't used to its full potential.

Yours for all oppressed peoples,

Most of the people there want to "stay British" but the fact remains that the majority are not British by blood or temperment.

Those that are should be given the chance to come here, and be given generous resettlement grants, paid for jointly by the Spanish and British governments.

Then Gibralter should be handed over to Spain, because, after all, Gibralter is Spanish!

FREE MARKET DRUGS!

Dear NF News,

Thanks for your latest copies of NF News which is obviously the best paper about!

I have an idea which I hope can be of help in the drug debate.

I think with drugs it is wrong simply to 'ban' it with a new set of oppressive laws.

The problem is the pushers. We can deal with them by legalizing all drugs. They should be freely available to everyone, without prescriptions of course, at main chemists - pricing the pushers out of the market!

If people freely choose to take drugs then we shouldn't try to force them not to. We must have programmes of help and education. It is the oppressive laws of this system today which has caused the problem of drug pushers. They naturally must be dealt with totally, not the ordinary people who may take an odd joint or trip now and then. They can choose for themselves.

For race and nation,
Slammer, Nordikfist 'zine, Sweden

Editorial Reply

This must be a John McEnroe letter. You cannot be serious! What you are advocating is that we authorize the 'legality' of the most obnoxious of drug dealers - those who grow and produce drugs - which we assume will then be supplied to chemists in this country by the State, which will become the official pusher. This can be used as another form of social contol.

More importantly, this idea is morally bankrupt. There may be some sense in your idea, relating to certain legal drugs which must be phased out, such as nicotine, which could be made available on prescription to existing addicts.

Drugs have not been made illegal for the fun of it! No society that claims to have some moral basis for its existence can encourage its people to commit suicide. These drugs also cause great changes in the behavioural patterns of those under their influence, in many cases violent change. It's dangerous enough walking around the streets in many areas already!

Certainly we need programmes of help and education aimed at drug addicts. But what you are proposing is that we create the addicts in the first place and then try to persuade them to kick the habit.

This is libertarianism taken to its worst extreme!

It is not oppressive laws that have produced pushers and junkies. The answer to this can be found in the fact that people have lost a, once universally held, spiritual conception of struggle and life, and responsibility to God and community.

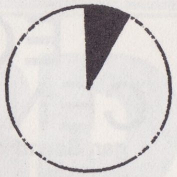
Help us to place a series of adverts such as the one on the right in a number of local and national papers. Our research has shown that many papers will accept adverts from the NF. The advert pictured here has already been published in the West Essex Gazette and brought in a number of enquiries. Our aim is to target areas where we feel it is important for the Movement to recruit. To do this it will cost £500, and this target must be achieved by mid-April so that the campaign can be run to maximum effect.



The appeal in the last issue brought in a total of £56. Many thanks to those concerned. It is noticeable that it is usually the same dedicated people who respond to financial appeals for these projects. There are thousands of people reading this who haven't yet put their money where their mouth is. So help build the Movement of the Future. Build the Advertising Fund.

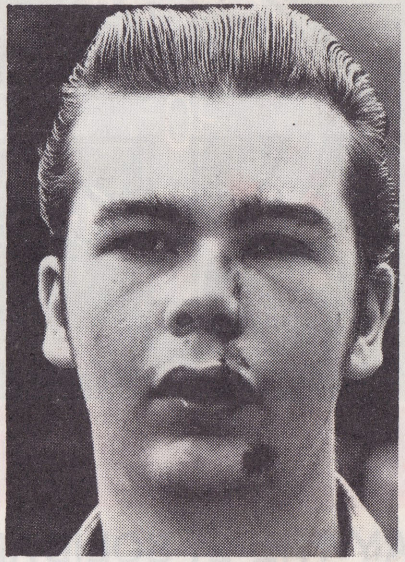
BECOME A FRIEND OF THE MOVEMENT



IT'S THE LEAST YOU CAN DO!

Are you just going to recoil in horror at all too common scenes like that pictured above or are you prepared to help us to build a better society?

To build a better society we need to build the National Front and the way to do this is for YOU to become a Friend of the Movement.

To become a member of this association it costs a mere £15 per year - in other words we are asking you to give less than 29 pence a week to help save our country. Surely it's the least you can do!

In return you will receive a FOM card, we will keep you updated with important developments and achievements in our work and you will gain the satisfaction of knowing that you are playing an important part in our struggle. Quite apart from allowing us to carry on with, and expand, our work, Friends of the Movement are literally the eyes and ears of the Movement in the population.

BOOKS

BURNING BOOKS

PO Box 258, Croydon, Surrey.

POLITICAL SOLDIER II
Derek Holland.
Hot off the press comes the second instalment of the Political Soldier trilogy. An invitation for political militants to take the next vital step on the long road towards building the New Man. Essential reading for serious nationalists who have unfurled the banner of the Political Soldier.
£2 including postage.

MARTYRS
Primo de Rivera/Codreanu.
This inspiring new booklet features extracts from the works of two national revolutionary heroes and martyrs for Europe - Jose Antonio of the Spanish Phalange and Corneliu Codreanu of the Romanian Legionary Movement, the Iron Guard. A vital addition to every nationalist's library.
£1 including postage.

HOLOCAUST ISLAND
James Gibb Stuart.
If you accept that example is more persuasive than theory, then this is a very welcome book. Clearly written, in an easy to read style, it is an excellent introductory primer to the evils of usury, or Finance Capitalism, despite the paradox of it being a work of fiction. This novel traces the attempts of a small group of remote island colonists to build a new, self-sufficient society. In doing so it outlines the obvious parallels between contemporary reality and fiction.
£3.75 including postage.

LEGAL

Remember the Cause in your Will

We wish our readers and supporters a long and healthy life, but for all of us the time for departure must eventually come. We feel that everyone will wish, when this time does arrive, to leave something behind that will help to carry on the struggle.

You can help the Cause when you are gone by making provision in your Will for those who will be doing the fighting after you. You can do this by bequeathing money to the National Front. Make sure you remember the National Front when you make out your Will. If you have already written your Will add a codicil for the benefit of the Movement. If you are unsure about any of the legal technicalities in arranging this, please do not hesitate to contact our Legal Department or see your own solicitor and he or she will advise. A short time ago the National Front benefitted froma substantial amount of money left to it by a deceased supporter. You too can help in this way. Can you think of a better way to go?

If Welsh, and the Welsh culture are kept only on the hearths of Welsh-speaking Welshmen, then the language and the culture will be dead long before the end of this century. For outsiders come increasingly to Wales to the countryside in the North and to the populous towns and villages in the South; and by their intrusion and their numbers the current of Welsh life is rapidly being anglicized. Only a political movement can save us. We must turn the outsiders - if I were a Greek, I would say the barbarians - we must turn them into Welshmen, and give them the Welsh mind, the Welsh culture and the Welsh language. That will safeguard the only culture that is traditional in Wales.

WILL WE LIVE OR LET DIE?

WELSH, the oldest living European language, stands at the crossroads. The next decade will determine whether the richest culture of these islands is to live or die.

Within rural Wales, just over half the population, 53%, still speak Welsh. Only just over a quarter, 28%, speak the language fluently and use it most of the time during an ordinary day.

And a high proportion of Welsh speakers are elderly, so at first sight the outlook appears bleak.

But there is some evidence that the proportion of young people able to speak Welsh is increasing. If high rural unemployment, holiday home led house price inflation, and the general lack of entertainment facilities could be dealt with, many of these youngsters would not move away, as is often now the case.

And a relatively high proportion of English speaking incomers do make at least some effort to learn Welsh, although they find this difficult as there are virtually no resources to encourage this process. Welsh

Of course, this won't happen, and even if it did, the fact would remain that a culture can only survive and flower if a large proportion of the nation are actively involved in it. Culture lives in the actions, decisions, words, songs, art and the livelihoods of ordinary people, not in the dusty, dead corridors of bureaucratic power.

JAPENESE BOSSES have complained that they can't pronounce Ynysmaerdy ystad diwydiannol (Ynysmaerdy industrial estate) in South Wales. So the local council is planning to change its name to "Llantrisant business park."

But there is some evidence that the proportion of young people able to speak Welsh is increasing. If high rural unemployment, holiday home led house price inflation, and the general lack of entertainment facilities could be dealt with, many of these youngsters would not move away, as is often now the case.

And a relatively high proportion of English speaking incomers do make at least some effort to learn Welsh, although they find this difficult as there are virtually no resources to encourage this process. Welsh language evening classes are often fully booked, but even so, a couple of hours a week simply isn't enough.

WELSH COULD RECOVER

So Welsh could now recover and prosper, or shrivel away into a tourist gimmick and eventual oblivion. It depends what is done over the next ten years. The actions needed to save Welsh must come from the people themselves.

The Westminster parliamentary dictatorship could help enormously, but no one should look seriously for effective action to protect cultural diversity from such a materialist and centralist State.

BUDGET FACILITIES

The government should allocate 5% of last year's budget surplus of £15,000 million, to fund a massive expansion in Welsh language training and community facilities. This £750 million would go a long way in Wales. Yet it wouldn't even be missed by the Treasury, which in any case will only use it to repay a little of the interest "owed" by Britain on fraudulent loans to international finance.

Of course, this won't happen, and even if it did, the fact would remain that a culture can only survive and flower if a large proportion of the nation are actively involved in it. Culture lives in the actions, decisions, words, songs, art and the livelihoods of ordinary people, not in the dusty, dead corridors of bureaucratic power.

So the real key to saving this priceless gem in the heritage of the British Isles is popular initiative. Quite small actions taken by individuals can have a tremendous effect if enough people are involved.

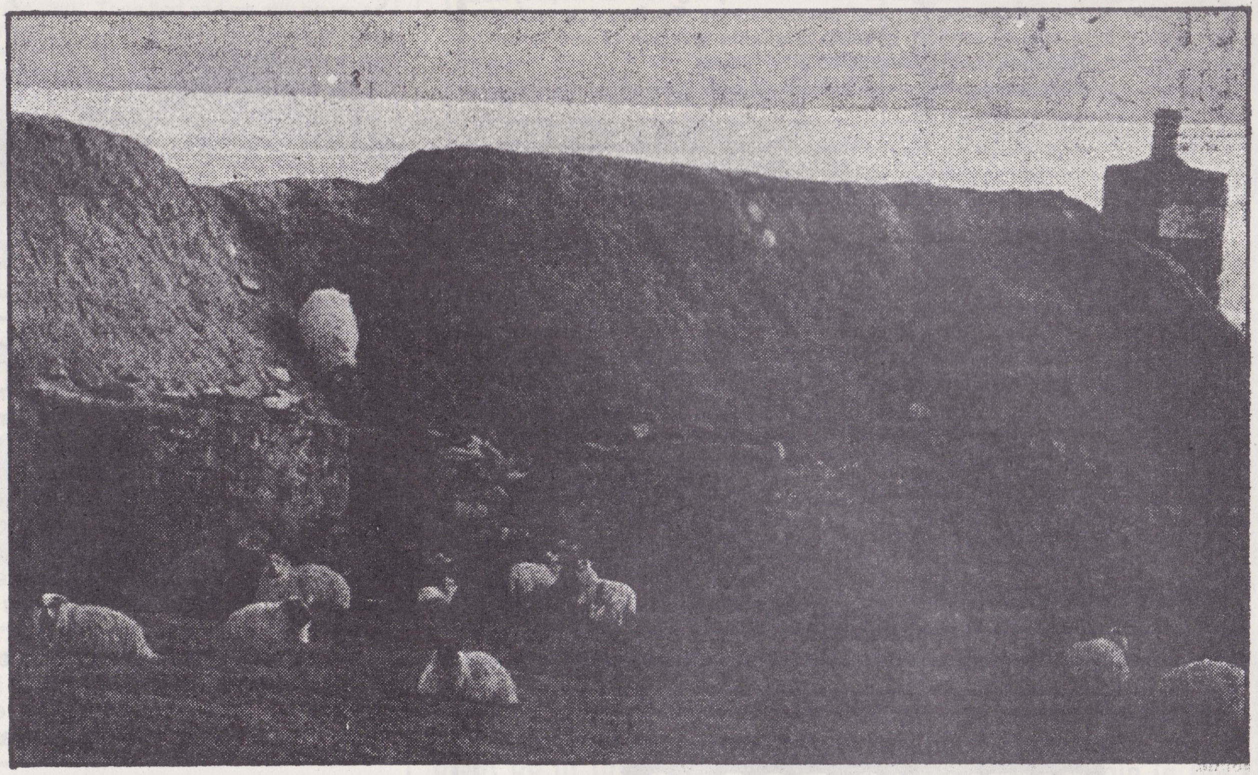
Ffrynt Cendlaethol Cymru - Wales National Front - therefore proposes that every person who is proud to be Welsh, or believes that the unique culture of Wales is worth preserving, should act on the following FIVE POINT PLAN FOR WALES.

POINT 1.

Visit non-Welsh speaking residents, particularly English incomers, and make a friendly and neighbourly approach. Explain how privileged they are to have the chance to share in the oldest and richest culture of our islands. Offer to help them to learn the language and appreciate the culture of their new homeland. Non-Welsh speakers shouldn't wait for such an approach, they should ask for help.

POINT 2.

Speak nothing except Welsh in shops, pubs, churches etc. It should become impossible to live in a Welsh speaking area without learning Welsh. Saunders Lewis understood back in 1926, that incomers who are prepared to learn and use our language, and become Welsh in every way, must be welcomed. After 60 years more of rural depopulation, this is even more true today.



Rural Wales is becoming the last bastion of Welsh language and traditional culture. A major effort must be made now to end the emmigration of our young people, who are the lifeblood of any community. This typical Highland croft is now 'owned' by sheep. Centuries of savage oppression, which continues today under different guises, has virtually destroyed Gaelic Scotland. Will this scene become typical of Cymru in the years to come? That depends on whether we are prepared to fight the political, cultural and economic battle for Wales now!

POINT 3.

Demand that local councils use their right to set up housing associations whose purpose is to provide decent low-cost starter homes to young people who would otherwise be unable to compete with wealthy incomers in the housing market. Explain to councillors that they will not get re-elected if they don't act in this way to ease the problem. As concern on this issue crosses party political loyalties, this should be very easy at local council level.

POINT 4.

Press local councils to be more willing to give permission for small light industrial units in rural areas. These should be built in styles and materials which fit in with their surroundings and should be screened by small woods. But they must be permitted if Wales is not to become a totally dependent rural museum for foreign tourists.

POINT 5.

Collect a solemn pledge from just one thousand people that they will each withhold 10% of their taxes and pay the money instead into a Welsh Community Fund. This fund should be administered by delegates chosen at regional meetings of the thousand patriots, and used to finance a language school for incomers - in order to show that the protest is not insular - and to provide funds for co-operative businesses to employ native Welsh speakers only.

No one would withold any tax until one thousand had agreed to do so. The government could not possibly imprison such a number of people and would be forced to conclude that a decent proportion of taxes raised in Wales should go to protect and enhance the unique identity of our culture and nation.
